Lemley to Hear Integration Petition Tues.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock School Board's petition for a 2½-year delay in integration at Central High School will be heard tomorrow by U. S. District Judge Harry Lemley of Hope.

The board contends that its own integration plan has been rendered unworkable because of opposition from the state and segregationist elements plus a hands off attitude of the federal government.

School officials claim that tension, bomb scares, racial incidents and the presence of troops at the school have interfered with normal education.

Lawyers for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have challenged several School Board allegations. In cross petitions and responses filed so far the Negroes have contended that ousting of seven Negro students from Central High at this time would be a deprivation of constitutional rights.

Lemley, a native of Virginia, has told the School Board it must prove its contentions to gain a delay in integration.

The hearing tomorrow is merely the latest phase—although major one—in the lengthy integration case which began years ago and culminated in the bitterness and violence of the past school year.

Last fall National Guard troops summoned by Gov. Orval Faubus kept nine Negroes from entering Central High. Faubus withdrew the troops under a federal court order not to interfere with integration.

When the Negroes entered the school a few days later rioting erupted outside. President Eisenhower

Craighead Strawberry Crop Works

JONESBORO (AP)—The Craighead County strawberry crop has been harvested with a return to farmers of 10¢ a pound. The yield and price were both up 10%. Processing plants at Monroe and Leveeville have halted the strawberry operation and only a few berries remain to be picked and they will be sold to stores and individuals.

British Have a Master Jailbreaker

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Britain has one of the master jailbreakers of the century—or some of Europe's filthiest jails.

Alfred Quicksilver Al Hinds, 41, escaped for the third time in 30 months Sunday, plunging Scotland Yard into a massive manhunt.

The Daily Express said a serious row was brewing in official circles about the apparent ease with which persons known to be escape-minded break out of English jails.

Alfred Hinds is no average jail breaker. He says he does it to draw attention to his innocence.

Sentenced to 12 years for his part in a daring London robbery, Hinds broke out of Nottingham Jail in 1955 and remained free for 24 days.

During his months of freedom, he flooded members of Parliament, the newspapers and television stations with well-written letters protesting his innocence.

He was nabbed living in Ireland.

In London's heavily guarded Law Court he was brought to trial last year on a technical question dealing with one of his many appeals.

Walking down a narrow dark corridor of the building, Hinds pushed his guards into a cloak room, locked the door, and dashed to freedom.

Five hours later he was caught trying to board a plane for Ireland.

Sunday afternoon he and another prisoner broke out of Chelmsford Prison near London. They scaled a wall and fled to a waiting car.

Scotland Yard does not seem to have a clue.

At Least 3 Persons Hurt in Accident

A series of weekend accidents which left at least three persons injured, one painfully, were investigated by City and State police.

Saturday, downtown on Main, an auto driven by Elizabeth Holt, local Negro resident, struck down Ann Arnold, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnold of De-

Ann.

She suffered head, hip and knee injuries but was reported to be doing well in a local hospital where she was taken by a Henn-Dorn-Cornell ambulance. Although painful, her condition is not believed critical.

City Police said the young girl ran around her mother's auto into the path of the Holt vehicle. No charges were filed.

An auto driven by Don Lee Moore, Fulton Rd. 1, went out of control early this morning and hit a light pole at Third and Edgewood. Moore was not seriously hurt. The auto was badly smashed. Officers filed a charge of hazardous driving against Moore.

About 1:30 p.m. Sunday Cleason Nix, Hope, lost control of a motorcycle which he was riding on Highway 4, about three miles east toward Rosston. The vehicle skidded into the ditch and Nix suffered severe cuts and bruises. He was not considered seriously injured reported Al Smith, Arkansas State Police, who investigated. He was brought to a local hospital for treatment by Oakeres.

Autos driven by James M. Anderson of New Hope, and Bryant Bobo of Spring Hill, collided yesterday afternoon on the Mud Creek bridge west of Hope on old Highway 67. Mrs. Bertha Bobo suffered cuts and bruises but was not believed seriously hurt. Both vehicles were slightly damaged, reported State Patrolman Al Smith. No charges were filed.

ARKANSAS WREATH PLACED ON STONEWALL JACKSON'S GRAVE.—Virginia Military Institute Cadet John H. Barr of Hope, Ark., places the wreath given by the State of Arkansas on the grave of Stonewall Jackson in Lexington, Va., during a special Memorial Day service. Fifteen States were selected by the respective governors to participate in the ceremony. It was sponsored by the Stonewall Jackson Memorial, Inc., and the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Jackson lived in Lexington for 10 years, from 1851 to 1861, when he was a professor at VMI. He died May 10, 1863, after being wounded at Chancellorsville.

Tank Car Blast Leaves 1,000 Homeless

MOUNT PULASKI Ill. (AP)—The shattering explosion of a railroad tank car spread devastation through this town of 1,500 Sunday, leaving some 1,000 temporarily homeless.

School has been out for more than a week and the destruction was not discovered until yesterday.

Desks were overturned, iron thrown on floors and walls, pictures smashed, clocks broken and a tape recorder ruined.

Damage may exceed $1,000, the sheriff's office reported.

The vandals apparently gained entrance through a window.

Damage was estimated by town and civil defense officials at a million dollars. Officials said a survey indicated two thirds of the town's 400 homes were damaged and not immediately habitable.

State police ordered the town evacuated after flames threatened two other tank cars filled with liquid chemicals. The cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

The tank car was on an Illinois Central Railroad freight train which was switching in the yards.

National Guardsmen were ordered into the central Illinois town to prevent looting.

The explosion tore a crater about 35 feet across and 30 feet deep where the tank car had been.

Chunks of steel, some weighing several tons, were hurled a quarter of a mile.

DETROIT (AP)—In an air of uneasiness nearly 500,000 auto workers went to their jobs today without protection of union contract.

There were no reports of incidents halfway through the first shift of no-contract work at the 275 General Motors, Chrysler and Ford plants throughout the country.

For GM and Chrysler it was the first time since 1937 that workers across the nation have turned out cars without a union contract. At Ford plants it was the first time since 1941.

The United Auto Workers' Union's contracts with Ford and Chrysler expired Sunday night without a new agreement.

Despite the announced intentions of both the companies and the union to continue normal operations without a contract, there was doubt about the future.

Walter F. Reuther, president of the UAW, came out of fastidious negotiations with stern orders to UAW members not to strike or provoke any incidents that could give the companies an excuse to shut down plants.

The auto companies have cautioned their supervisors to keep a sharp eye out for slowdowns or sabotage.

Negotiations slowed into neutral today. The only meeting was at GM where the UAW asked that future talks be held beneath the station of University Women rather than GM headquarters.

The auto workers called for a

The vessels have been seen near an area marked by buoys flying small Soviet flags.

New Bill Would Give Cottonmen Two Choices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cotton farmers would have a choice of two levels of cotton acreage allotments and price supports under a bill now before the House Agriculture Committee.

The measure was given final form last week by a cotton subcommittee headed by Rep. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark) and is to be considered by the full committee one day this week in connection with a general farm bill.

As finally drafted, the cotton proposal was altered slightly from earlier versions approved by the subcommittee.

The measure now first provides that the national cotton acreage allotment for 1959, 1960 and 1961 shall be 17,700,000 acres, compared with 17,600,000 acres for 1958 and an anticipated 14,500,000 acres in 1959 if no legislation is enacted.

French Jamming

seful timing of a veteran prima donna, Gen. Charles de Gaulle for 18 years has kept Frenchmen watching him.

His stage has been the battlefield, exile in England the Champs Elysees crowded with his countrymen celebrating the end of World War II, the National Assembly and his solitary country home near Metz.

The tall, stern general has long been a master of timing and suspense. His recent news conference where he declared he was ready to "assume the powers of the republic," was a good example. He announced the conference long enough in advance to allow an enormous sense of expectation to build up. When he finally spoke all France and the world listened attentively.

The 67-year-old general, born in Lille Nov. 22, 1890, has been proposing dramatic and decisive solutions to France's problems almost since he was graduated from St. Cyr military academy. He has been alternately inspiring and vexing to his associates.

As early as 1928, when France's military leaders were planning for the kind of wars fought in the past, De Gaulle proposed motorized columns and tanks that could strike sudden blows at an enemy. French leaders did not listen, but the Germans did. Their lightning attacks in World War II proved De Gaulle had been right.

When German forces assembled on France's border in 1939, De Gaulle urged that France keep the initiative by attacking first. His own subsequent performance won him a battlefield promotion to brigadier general. At 50, he was the youngest general in the army.

When France collapsed, De Gaulle wasted no time in proclaiming a "Free France" to fight on from England and North Africa. "France has lost a battle," he declared, "but France has not lost the war." He assured Frenchmen listening to his London broadcast that France would be one of the victors. "She will then regain her liberty and her greatness," he said.

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — The French Parliament voted at a feverish pace today to finish up three bills handed to it by Premier De Gaulle. They are:

1. Continuation of full powers for Algeria. This was approved by the National Assembly this morning 339-197.

2. Full powers to rule France by decree for the next six months.

3. The authority to rewrite the constitution to give the executive more power; to separate executive and legislative powers; and to realign the relationship between France and its empire.

The full powers for Algeria have been given to previous governments.

The full powers bill for metropolitan France would give De Gaulle and his ministers the right to rule by decrees, which would be called ordinances. Previous laws could be revised, modified or replaced.

The constitutional reform proposal leaves De Gaulle free to rewrite the basic law. The finished product then would be submitted to a national referendum, probably in October, without prior approval by Parliament.

Along with constitutional reform is expected to come electoral reform to change the present cumbersome system of voting only for parties under a proportional representation scheme.

Waited Too Long to Bestow Honor

MENNA, Ark. (AP) — The local Masonic Lodge waited a few minutes too long to bestow a 50-year-service award on the Rev. Melvin L. Wallis. The Baptist minister died of a heart attack just before the ceremony.

Wallis, 80, had attended the regular Friday night meeting and climbed the three flights of stairs to the lodge room. The presentation was a big secret and he sat with fellow Masons unaware that he was to be honored.

His death came just moments before he would have learned of the honor.

Europe Is Cautious on De Gaulle Issue

LONDON (AP) — European reaction was mixed.

A big question in Europe was whether De Gaulle would try a separate approach to Moscow. In the Ruhr city of Essen, for instance, Socialist Carlo Schmid held a political meeting: "A man from Paris will probably get to Moscow ahead of the Germans. Then, not only NATO but the idea of European unity will be threatened."

The paper said, however, that there is no indication De Gaulle will set up a dictatorship because it "would not agree with his personality."

Die Welt of Hamburg said of France's future foreign policy:

"Even if it approves the principles of the Atlantic Pact it will not be a model student of Atlantic conformity."

It will try to open up the East-West talks. Die Welt said, and to push NATO leaders to think of something new.

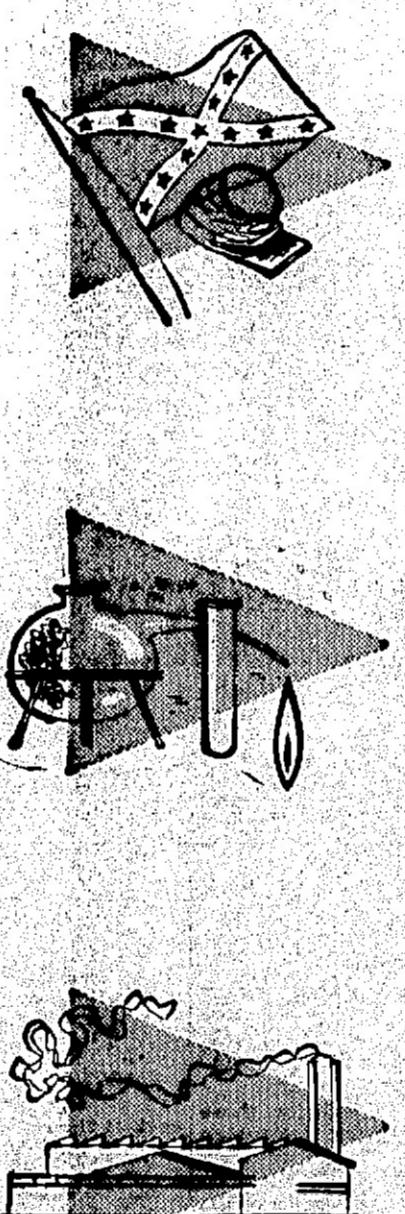

The United States already has expressed its gratification that the crisis in France has seemed over.

Die Welt of Hamburg said of yesterday the United States looks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Elmer "B" Lindsey, the all-around Fairfest City athlete Saturday embarked on a professional baseball career with the St. Louis Cardinals.

a new way of life that began almost 100 YEARS AGO gas air conditioning

A NEW WAY of life... a new route to comfort all year long with a single central unit that heats and cools...began about 100 years ago. Today that new way of life is provided best by Arkla-Servel All-Year® Gas Air Conditioning.

The principle of heat-operated absorption refrigeration upon which modern Arkla-Servel air conditioning is based first was used in making ice for the South during the Civil War. Designed by Ferdinand Philippe-Edouard Carre' in the early 19th century, the system was an important aid to the Confederate defense effort after the South's supply of natural ice from the North was curtailed. Faced with a serious storage problem, Southern leaders persuaded the Frenchman to build his first two absorption machines for the Confederacy. News of Carre's amazing absorption system traveled rapidly, and despite all efforts to conceal the equipment, Northern forces managed to smuggle one of the machines for their use before the war ended.

This early absorption system, which used ammonia as refrigerant and water as absorbent, remained in limited use until two Swedish technology students, experimenting with the absorption principle, developed a radically new heat-operated absorption system. In 1925 these young inventors, Baltzar von Platen and Carl G. Munters, brought their discovery to America where it was immediately accepted by investors and used in building economical, reliable gas refrigerators for the home.

These discoveries and those of Willis Carrier, who in 1919 first applied a refrigeration principle to air conditioning by using various chemical refrigerants in his compression units, stimulated absorption refrigeration research for air conditioning.

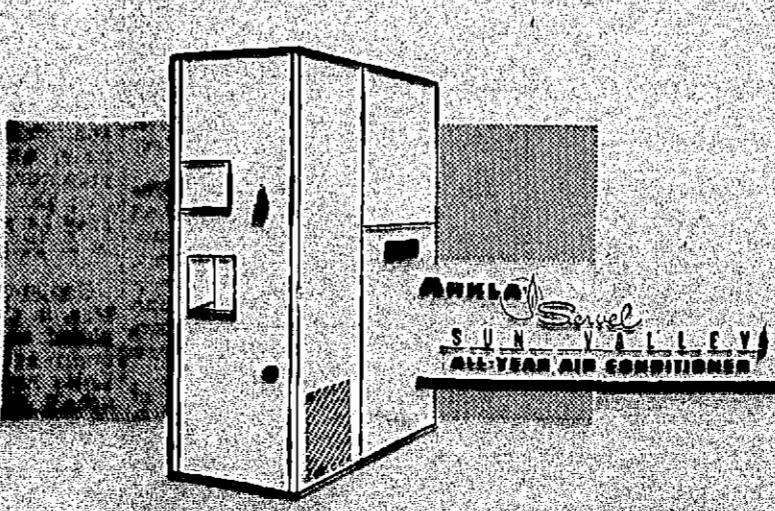

By 1934, the first experimental absorption air conditioning machines had been introduced. Because of their large size they were suitable primarily to industrial installations.

THE ULTIMATE air conditioning goal, however, was to produce compact, economical, heat-operated units which would function without noisy, moving parts. Experiments leading to the manufacture of such a unit were begun in 1934 by Servel, Inc. On May 23, 1940, Servel introduced the first year-round air conditioner. In developing this unit, Servel established an almost completely new absorption refrigeration principle, and gave the world a revolutionary, gas-operated air conditioner which provided both heating and cooling from a single unit, without moving parts.

Only a few hundred of these new units, of three and five-ton capacities, had been produced when America entered World War II. The sale of this equipment was then restricted to the armed forces and vital industries where it helped boost the efficiency of defense workers and kept essential machinery operating coolly at maximum speeds.

Since World War II air conditioning has become a "must" for modern home living... and Gas Air Conditioning is the finest, the most economical system available for homes, offices and industry...

In 1956, Servel, Inc., gave to the nation the vastly-improved Sun Valley units, using the gas absorption principle. Arkla-Servel (successor to Servel) Sun Valley All-Year® central units, in 3½ and 5-ton sizes, both heat and cool... Arkla-Servel 25-ton water chillers are available for industrial application.

ALK offers Gas Air Conditioning comfort at lower cost... because our rates are among the lowest in the nation!

Finkbeiner Launches His Campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Chris Finkbeiner officially launched his campaign for Democratic nomination for governor here yesterday, dangling tax-reduction bait in front of Arkansas voters.

The shirt-sleeved Little Rock meat packer announced a 10-point platform in which he pledged to lower the cost of state government to make a tax reduction possible. He also said he could maintain the level of teachers salaries without the 3 per cent sales tax.

Finkbeiner, opening his headquarters here with an organizational meeting, criticized Gov. Orval Faubus but made no mention of the other Democratic gubernatorial candidates, Chancellor Lee Ward of Paragould and Robert J. Brown of Little Rock.

"If the governor would work for the state and not for his own personal benefit or for a political dynasty," he asserted, "we would have efficiency in government."

In his platform, Finkbeiner pledged:

To establish sound and efficient business practices in state government.

To lower the total cost of government so that there can be a tax reduction.

To preserve segregation.

To take the State Police out of politics.

To help expand agriculture and industry.

To cooperate with the working people.

To take care of the handicapped and old folks.

To maintain teachers salaries without a 3 per cent sales tax.

To limit the term of governor to four years.

To demand integrity in all departments under the jurisdiction of the governor.

Finkbeiner said a survey he had made showed that 33 per cent of the people in the state favored last year's increase in the sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent; 60 per cent opposed it and 7 per cent had no opinion.

"If the people should reverse the trend and not vote it out we can give the people a reduction anyway," he said. The question of repealing the higher levy will appear on the November general election ballot.

Referring to his plans on the State Police, Finkbeiner declared that "if you're going to support Chris Finkbeiner you might as well get used to pressure from the State Police."

"A close friend of mine has received upwards of $1,000 in fines on his trucks in the last six weeks because he supports me," he said. "Up to that time he hadn't received a ticket."

Finkbeiner announced that Sherman Williams of Little Rock would be his executive assistant in the campaign and that Mrs. Mildred Clark, also of the Little Rock, would be his executive secretary.

He named John Harvey Baird of Little Rock his finance chairman and Warren Bass of Little Rock head of accounting procedures.

Finkbeiner said he would name a campaign chairman later but he announced 12 of his 14 district chairmen.

They are Ed Brooks of Fayetteville; William Cole of Fort Smith; Paul Rundall of Hot Springs; J. P. White of Lonoke; F. J. Thornton of Glenwood; Clint Huey of Warren; Bill McClure of Dardanelle; Judge Forest Jeffery of Batesville; W. S. Howell of Batesville; Hale Jackson of General; Leake Poindexter of Mena; and Harry Lee of Stuttgart.

Stone, Blevins, Ark.; Mrs. L. A. Sinyard Jr., Rt. 4, Hope; Debbie Stephens, Blevins, Ark.; Mrs. Freda Halstrom, Rt. 1, Palmyra; Mrs. W. E. Ratcliff, Palmyra; Mrs. Fred Smith and baby boy, Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Smith announced the arrival of a baby boy of Helene and Harry Lee of Stuttgart.

DOROTHY DIX

Miss Independent,
Mind Your Manners

Dera Dorothy Dix: Mother and I have a standing argument. She says I should always be "nice" to people, but I'm very independent and treat them as I please. If I don't like any little thing about a boy, such as the way he dresses, talks or dances, I make no bones about telling him so. Whether it hurts him or whether he ever comes back again or not, doesn't bother me. Don't you think I'm right?

lower-level paratroopers to enforce integration and maintain order. He also federalized the entire Arkansas National Guard.

The last of the Guardsmen stationed at Central High left for their homes in Arkansas last week. School officials said no Negroes will attend summer school. The current integration hearing will decide if they continue at Central High next fall.

Accidents present a greater death threat to a child born today than the combined risk of flu, pneumonia and tuberculosis.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I do not!

Being nice is only following the Golden Rule — the one perfect code of human behavior. Its very foundation is being "nice" to people, acting courteously, showing attention and doing what you can to make life pleasanter for everyone around. Your so-called independence is nothing but colossal egotism, embellished by envy, malice and uncharitableness. That's how others see you. No one admires this vaunted independence. In time you'll find you are receiving the same treatment you dish out, and chances are you won't like it. Listen to your mother while you still have a few friends.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been going with a man whose wife was killed in a car accident five years ago. He hasn't gone with anyone else, and though he claims to love me I wonder if he should date another lady before we settle down? Do you think he really loves me?

Dear Claudia: If you can't believe your friend's words or actions, why should you believe me? He certainly seems sincere. Why be a skeptic?

Dear Dorothy Dix: In January my father married a woman with a daughter of 14, slightly younger than I. We must share the same room and don't get along. She's always borrowing my clothes and of course, her mother stands up for her. I'm ready to leave home.

Dear Jill: And admit defeat without putting up a fight! Everyone in your household must make concessions to create a harmonious unit from so many different personalities. Do your share and I'm sure everyone will adjust beautifully. Remember, your stepmother is as confused as you and, since you are slightly older, make her feel at home.

Dear Dorothy Dix: How can I get my husband to wear his wedding ring again? After our first argument he took it off and refused to wear it any more.

Dear Jo Jo: Many men don't like wearing wedding rings and are coaxed into it by their fiancées. They'll abandon the jewelry at any excuse. Don't fuss about it. If the rest of your marriage is happy, let him keep the ring. If he's really unhappy, then it's time to consider getting a divorce.

Elvis on Furlough at Memphis Home

MEMPHIS (AP) — Tvt. Elvis Presley, the drafted million-dollar-a-year rock 'n' roll singer, lounged around home today on a brief vacation from reveille and drill.

The 22-year-old teen-agers' delight is on two-week furlough before returning to Ft. Hood, Tex., for training as a tank crewman, with duty in Germany looming in his future.

He joked briefly with fans during an encounter at the gate to his $100,000 suburban mansion Sunday. He was wearing shirt-shooter medals for rifle and pistol marksmanship.

Presley arrived home Saturday about midnight, driving one of his Cadillacs.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "I have ceased to be a problem."

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

Ike and Dulles to Discuss French Problem

By JOHN M. HIGHOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles scheduled a major foreign policy conference today to discuss relations with the De Gaulle government in France and map a new reply to the Soviet Union on nuclear test talks.

A White House statement Sunday night called for "intimate and friendly relations" with France under the premiership of Gen. De Gaulle. But officials said privately that everything depends now on how far De Gaulle is willing to go in Allied cooperation.

On the nuclear test issue, the President received a letter from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Saturday agreeing to open talks among scientific experts of the United States, the Soviet Union and other countries later this month.

Khrushchev raised several points, concerning place and membership, which required a top presidential response.

The scientific experts will try to work out mutually agreeable means for detecting any violations once an agreement to halt testing is ratified.

There is no such agreement now, although the Soviet Union announced earlier this year that it was stopping tests and the United States and Britain have been considering a moratorium.

The President, in a letter to Khrushchev May 24 suggested that both sides send scientific experts to Geneva in three weeks to work out the detection system. He proposed including British, French and probably other scientists along with three top-flight American physicists.

Khrushchev replied Saturday that he was agreeable to the proposed starting time. According to official informants he also raised the question of including Polish and Czech scientists and possibly having men also from neutral countries such as India. He called

Boyer's Batting Enables Cards to Capture Series Standings

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ken Boyer has gone from a .365 problem hitting to the National League's hottest batter in just two weeks. And the reason is a mystery to the much-analyzed St. Louis Cardinals third baseman.

"I'm hitting the same as I always have," Boyer said. "The hits are just dropping in now."

"It's a funny game." It wasn't funny to the San Francisco Giants, who watched Boyer's drives "dropping in" the bleachers for three home runs in two days.

A .431 hitter the past two weeks, Boyer blasted a pair of two-run homers to pace the Red Birds to a doubleheader sweep on Memorial Day.

His 12th inning homer the next day gave the Cardinals a 10-9 victory. The Giants salvaged the fourth game Sunday and held Ken to one hit, but he was 8-for-13 in the series with eight runs batted in.

Boyer once was tagged the "reluctant dragon" by former Cardinal General Manager Frank Lane, impatient with Ken's defensive lapses and poor hitting in the first part of last season, after his big 1950 season.

Now his rejuvenation puts General Manager Bing Devine in an old-you-so mood. Devine took Boyer off the trading block last November after Lane's departure. Bing classified him as all but un-touchable.

In two weeks he has hiked his average 112 points to .277. Manager Fred Hutchinson and his happy teammates are convinced he is still on his way up.

Boyer is now second only to Stan Musial on the club in runs batted in with 23, tied with Stan at eight homers, and leads the team in runs scored (27).

Fishing Derby Is Underway at Narrows

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (Special) — Fishermen from four states, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, are expected to flock to Narrows Lake near Murfreesboro this week in quest of the biggest bass, black and white, crappie and bream, as the lake's first major Fishing Derby gets underway.

The Derby lasts from Monday through Sunday, June 8th.

Daily winners in the four fish classifications will compete in one mammoth Derby Day event, June 14, for the big prizes.

A total of $1500 in cash and sporting goods will be awarded during the contest.

Three divisions will compete, men, women and children under 16 years of age.

President Frank Bray of the sponsoring organization, the Narrows Lake Association, said that the waters were in excellent shape and many limit catches were reported by boat dock operators this week, indicating that the first week of June could be a busy fishing period.

Registration cards will be available at the Swaha Lodge at the dam site, the Kirby Landing, St. Creek Landing, Daisy, and at Highway 70 landing at the north end of the lake. Fish will be weighed on special scales at each landing and the daily fishing hours are from 5 a.m. to 8 p.m.

One registration card qualifies fishermen for the entire Derby, but each contestant must check in daily at a landing or dock.

Daily prizes will be awarded for the top catch of bass, white bass, crappie and bream, but the fishermen who get the race thrill of landing a striped sea bass are being asked to release the bass immediately. The Game and Fish Commission is experimenting with some 33 of the big sea bass planted in the deep, clear water lake last year.

Sanders Picks Up Top Prize in Western

DETROIT (AP)—Vernon Doug Sanders had enough money today to pay doctor bills for the injuries that kept him out of tournament golf for the better part of a year.

The 21-year-old former college swingler from the University of Florida collected $3,000 first-place money Sunday in the 56th Western Open Tournament.

Back on the tour less than a month after his second injury within the year, Sanders sliced through a driving rain for a final round of 68 and made his 4-under-par performance stand up for a one-stroke victory. He was 13 strokes under par for the 72 holes.

Doug Fisterwald finished second for the 16th time in 24 years and collected $2,500.

Sanders fired rounds of 69-68-70 before his fourth straight subpar showing over the suburban Red Rock Golf Club layout (36-30-71). He overcame the two-hole deficit when all three golfers who had shared the 41-hole lead faltered in the final round.

Fisterwald had a 71 and his 72-hole total was 274, one stroke behind Sanders. Dave Ragan, of Colorado, and Jerry Mike Sout-

CHAPTER 25

I went silently down the long corridor. I unbent my coat so that it would be easy to get to the gun. I kept watching for a stalker.

"How are you here?" the voice then asked.

"I came in," I said. "First, do you have a legitimate?"

"Yes, but he is to be trusted."

"Every 30 minutes. He is due again before long."

I took the pic separated one slender piece of steel and went to work on the lock. "What do you have? One bed above the other?"

"A single bed on each side of the cell. Why?"

"I like to know what's around if anything happens." I said.

"I saw your sister about an hour ago, Felipe."

"She told me about it. You are clever, senior. Elena is not easily tricked and she is an excellent shot. Now quiet. The guard is near."
